Situation Report - Map Reference- VERDUN - B

My company is now at 27.1-80.3 to 27.3-80.1. Our casualties are about one. Enemy's artillery is quiet. I have sent patrols forward to Co. "9". I am in touch on my right with 313th Inf. who are at Ormont Woods; on my left with "H" Co, who are at 27.0-80.5. It was a very dark and rainy night. Very hard to see. Machine guns both ours & enemys kept up a continuous fire all night. A few, possibly 10 shells, exploded near trench about 16h30 yesterday- caliber 77 mm. Our artillery kept up an intermittent fire all night. One man got sick who was gassed yesterday. The enemy outlined his position in a beautiful style by sending up flares all along front, and all during night.

Situation Report - Map Reference - VERDUN - 13. My company is now at 27.1 - 80.3 to 27.3 - 80.1. My casualties are about one. Enemy's artillery is firing on Road fork south of our position from North. I have sent patrols forward to "7" Co. I am in touch on my right with 313th Inf. who are at Ormont Woods; on my left with "H" Co, who are at 27.0 - 80.4 The weather today has been very clear. The enemy's artillery has been a little less violent than yesterday. Their machine gun activity seems to be increasing. There has been very little aviation work. We have had one man wounded by accident. Since 6 Koo today 120 shells dropped near our trench; 110 of these before 9h 30. Most were of calibre about 155 mm. No gas shells all day.
